Renouncing voodoo in Port au Prince, Haiti

We had a powerful time of ministry in Haiti. Fifty pastors and leaders joined us at a pastor's conference where we felt led to lead them through renouncing voodoo on behalf of their nation. Other teaching topics included spiritual authority and deliverance; and encouraging the church to go outside the walls to minister.

We also prayer walked a piece of property that is being purchased by the host church to build a permanent facility and Christian school. It is located just across the street from the mayor's mansion. We learned that the current president and mayor of Port Au Prince just a year or so ago prayed at this mayor's mansion to renounce the previous dedication of the country to Satan and then dedicated the nation to Jesus Christ. We toured the mayor's mansion and were also able to pray in the conference room affirming their prayer and blessing the people of the nation.

God works in ways that far surpass our human knowledge.

“Will Jesus Teach Me How to Read?”

That was the question Pastor Edifice asked as a young man to the person who shared the gospel with him. He was told, “Yes, Jesus will help you to read.” So for two days he would open and look at the new Bible that had been given him and waited for Jesus to teach him. When nothing happened, he threw the Bible aside and said, “To hell with this. If Jesus is not going to teach me to read the Bible then I’m going back to my old way of living in the world.” That night Jesus appeared to him in a vision and began teaching him! This went on for two weeks. After that time, he was looking at his Bible and asked a friend what some of the words on the page were. When his friend told him what they said, he realized that’s exactly what he thought and from then on he could read. His story was incredible! Before we left Uganda he had already met with his leadership team and began a Bible Training Center!

You did not choose me, but I chose you and appointed you to go and bear fruit — fruit that will last. Then the Father will give you whatever you ask in my name.

So many people desperate for prayer and healing

More Port au Prince, Haiti Ministry

- Conducted street evangelism where several made first time decisions for Christ.
- Conducted a medical missions clinic that treated 100+ people. Many were prayed for and healed before seeing the doctor.
- Ministered at "Mercy and Sharing" a special needs orphanage taking care of 126 children. One of the highlights of the trip as several of the children were delivered from afflicting/tormenting spirits, a staff member delivered from an oppressive spirit and filled with the Holy Spirit, and another staff member accepted Christ for salvation.
- Ministered to several team members, including the host missionary couple who have just been living there for a couple of weeks. The wife experienced "a time of refreshing" from the Lord as she was also set free from some oppressive spirits.
- Also made a solid contact to go back next year for a conference that we estimate could be attended by 400 pastors/leaders. One of the greatest needs is discipleship material so plans are to go back next year and do training to plant Bible Training Centers.

The Gaudin Update

This fall finds our family enjoying some relief from the long, hot summer. Our son Chris (almost 20 years old now) is glad to be back in college at CSU-Pueblo. He is continuing his studies for an engineering degree in "Mechatronics." He is very busy taking 17 hours and working part time. Debbie is occupied with two part time jobs: managing, renting and accounting work for two beautiful Colorado vacation homes and doing home care for a sweet elderly couple. She just taught herself to knit and in her spare time is enjoying a new creative craft to bless others with. I have now ministered in twenty-two nations in the last four years! Wow, that's something I would have never dreamed of. It encourages our hearts to hear of all the changed lives as a result of our ministry in the nations. And bless the Lord, we celebrated our 25th wedding anniversary on the 24th. Our Lord is awesome! We send you our sincere thanks for supporting us, keeping us in ministry, praying for our family and ministry trips, and all your encouragement and love. It has certainly been a team effort and we are grateful for you all.
